

William Cadogan joins the Board of Directors at OrthoHelix[™] Surgical Designs, Inc.

Akron, Ohio – May 31, 2006 – Mr. Bill Cadogan, a venture partner for Vesbridge Partners, has recently joined the OrthoHelix Board of Directors. Beginning his career at AT&T, where for ten years he advanced his way from engineering to sales/marketing to Eastern Regional Vice President of Operations. Mr. Cadogan left AT&T to gain a broader set of responsibilities and give flight to his entrepreneurial desires. In 1984 as CEO for Orion Systems he demonstrated the ability to scale revenues from a cold start up to $66 million in three and a half years. In 1987, he sold the company for $130 million to Comsat.

He brings significant experience as a Board Member, serving on over a dozen companies and has negotiated over twenty M&A transactions worth over $2 billion. Mr. Cadogan states; “I have chosen to spend the latter part of my career as both a mentor and a coach of start-up companies. The excitement and the satisfaction I get from helping to ‘make things happen’ never grows old.” David Kay, M.D. the Chairman and CEO of OrthoHelix commented; “Bill’s practical business experience will be a vital asset to the growth of OrthoHelix as we advance to a higher level of competitiveness in the marketplace.”

Mr. Cadogan grew up in Boston and attended Northeastern University where he graduated with a BSEE degree in 1971. Bill earned his MBA from the Wharton Business School at the University of Pennsylvania in 1985. He now resides in Naples, FL and Minneapolis, MN.
